Property of Singer Sewing Machine Head Biggest Settled in Suffolk County.

OME WORTH $1,173,400

ulk of Fund Distributed Among Seven Children—Large Sums to Charity.

The largest estate ever settled in Suffolk county is that left by the late Commodore Frederick G. Bourne, who for many years president of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. An inheritance tax of $1,000,000 upon the estate was entered yesterday in the surrogate's court at Riverhead, L. I. The total value was appraised at $42,592,813 and the net estate at $10,553,753.16. The Vanderbilt estate is now in process of settlement and it is believed this may exceed the Bourne estate in total value and tax.

Commodore Bourne's real estate was appraised at $1,410,235.96. Of this amount $173,400 was the value of the estate at Colden, Indian Neck Hall, which was one of the show places on the south shore of Long Island. His property at Ten Cove was appraised at $40,000 and his New York City residence at $142,335. Mr. Bourne also owned a place in the Thousand Islands valued at $14,500. Personal property was appraised at $1,192,577.56 in stocks, bonds and mortgages and $411,201.36 in cash. The contents of the main house at Colden were worth $120,982.59 according to the appraisal.

The bulk of the estate was divided among the children as follows: Arthur Bourne, $4,463,527.59; Mrs. Mary Trassburger, $4,927,313.39; Marion Bourne, $4,954,346.59; Alfred G. Bourne, $4,982,643.17; Mrs. Florence B. Ford, $5,016,984.60; George G. Bourne, $5,135,747.02; and Marion G. Bourne, $5,075,885.60. To persons not yet determined Mr. Bourne left $5,021,975, and sums ranging up to $25,000 were left to his relatives and to friends, servants and employees.

There were many bequests to charitable institutions. The largest gift is one of $193,000 to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine; the Norwegian Lutheran Church received $42,000; Hope Farm $25,000; and Pomfret School $23,500. The children's Aid Society received $15,000, and the same amount was left to the Sheltering Arms, St. John's Guild, the New York Skin and Cancer Hospital, the New York Juvenile Asylum, the New York Protestant City Mission Society, the Salvation Army, the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, Emmanuel Church, the Tuberculosis Prevention for Children at Farmingdale, St. Ann's Church at Sayville and the Church Charity Foundation of Long Island.

Chancellor Brown Finds Recent Increase Not Enough.

Although the salaries of instructors at New York University were increased 25 per cent last February, Chancellor Elmer E. Brown in his annual report just published declares "the situation is still far from satisfactory and additional advances must undoubtedly be made."

Of the outstanding features of the activities of New York University during the last year, the chancellor calls particular attention to the new administration of the Hall of Fame, the enlargement for increased endowment, the erection of the first engineering laboratory, the purchase of the Trinity School building, the organization this semester of the Graduate School of Business Administration and the advancement of the Veterinary College.

FORDHAM TO HONOR HEROIC DEAD TO-DAY

Archbishop Hayes Will Assist in Unveiling of Memorial Gateway.

ARRANGED BY ALUMNI

General Edwards Expected to Make a Patriotic Address.

The memory of thirty-six Fordham men who lost their lives in the war will be honored this afternoon on the campus of the university with an impressive service arranged by the alumni and friends of the dead heroes in which Archbishop Hayes will be the central figure.

The occasion will be the unveiling of the Fordham University memorial gateway, consisting of two side gates and a large central one leading to the driveway, the first monument to be erected to the memory of the soldier and sailor dead of Manhattan and The Bronx. Solid bronze tablets bearing the names of the Fordham men adorn the pillars between the gates and these will be unveiled and blessed at the same time.

Relatives of the dead will be escorted from the Administration Building by a battalion and band of the Sixty-ninth Regiment, a battery of artillery and a squad of uniformed Fordham service men. The Rev. Joseph A. McCaffrey of St. Rose of Lima's Church, Fordham alumnus and late chaplain of the "Fighting Ninth," will make the presentation speech. The Rev. Edward Tivnan, president of Fordham University, will accept for his college and deliver an address. A patriotic address will be made by one of the Generals present, probably by Gen. Clarence E. Edwards, leader of the Yankee division and a Fordham man.

An outdoor altar has been erected on the campus at which benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be celebrated before the conclusion of the programme. The Archbishop will officiate and the services will end with the sounding of taps and the firing of a salute by a squad.

The gateway is made of rubblestone, said to be the native stone of Fordham. It is capped with limestone and has a granite base.
